OPEN POSITION

RESEARCHER -- ENVIRONMENTAL LAW AND POLICY

We are looking for an individual to assist with diverse research needs related both to the operation of our environmental/energy law and policy consulting firm and the substance of our client projects. We envision this as a part time job initially but the potential for full time work following an initial orientation period is possible (as desired and as agreed). You must have very strong computer skills (Microsoft Office Suite), as well as knowledge of various search platforms and resources. A 3L or paralegal would be a good fit for the position. Moreover, you need to possess innate intellectual curiosity and be creative in ferreting out information. As we are a firm specialized in national and international environmental and energy law and policy and related corporate management and planning matters, a wide range of discipline backgrounds (including exposure to library science) are potentially relevant to the position.

To Apply:

Send your resume to us at jobs@BJGCO.com along with a cover letter detailing your availability and any other pertinent information.
